

For Immediate Release

KJ International Resources Receives ISO 13485 & updated 9001:2008 Certifications

Minneapolis, MN – Oct 15th, 2009 – KJ International Resources (KJI), a leading translation service provider specializing in regulated industries, was granted ISO 13485 certification during its scheduled TUV QMS audit. KJI also updated its ISO 9001:2000 to the ISO 9001:2008 certification.

KJI recognizes the importance of utilizing effective quality systems. Both ISO standards require extremely high caliber systems, which demonstrates KJI's commitment to risk management and to ensuring the utilization of systems that provide clients with the highest quality in translation services.

About ISO 13485

ISO 13485 is typically sought by medical device manufacturers and is generally harmonized with ISO 9001. KJI received ISO 13485 certification as a service provider to medical device companies, demonstrating an ability and commitment to align with, and meet the needs of, customer and regulatory requirements. As a service company supporting the device industry, KJI understands the importance of aligning our QMS with our clients' highest expectations. KJI knows, particularly, how it pertains to the promotion and awareness of regulatory requirements as a management responsibility, and its focus on risk management activities and design transfer activities during product development. In addition, KJI understands the specific requirements for verification of the effectiveness of corrective and preventive actions. Most language translation service providers have not achieved the ISO 13485. KJI's achievement of this certification demonstrates KJI's drive and commitment to quality and service.

About KJI

KJI is a leading provider of translation and localization services. Formed in 1994, the company employs over 3,000 language specialists and localization engineers. Its professional translators, experienced project managers, desktop publishing specialists, and software validation specialists, enable KJI to offer high quality translation and localization services for all languages and translation volumes. For more information, go to: www.kjinternational.com

###

KJI press contact:

Ryan Polzin; KJ International
1-612-355-5603
rpolzin@kjinternational.com